Bill Robinson Portrait of a Good Man

One day this week I read a wire story in my own paper about Bill (Bojangles) Robinson, being ill in a New York hospital.

The old negro tap-dancer now is 71, and his heart isn't what it used to be. But he has something that no mere physical infirmity can take away — a great name, a story of achievement for his race that helps, instead of hurting, the reputation of our American democracy.

Robinson was honored with a city-wide celebration in New York in 1946 for having been in show business 60 years. His fame had spread from the legitimate stage to the movies when he made a hit with "Shuffle" in a staircase dance number.

I was in the Cotton Club, New York one night in the Spring of 1939 when Cab Calloway introduced Bill Robinson. It was Bill's 61st birthday, and he made a little speech. The place was full of Southerners, and the great negro entertainer gave a toast to the land of his birth — the South. And he said something else. He said:

"America has been good to me all my life. And all my life I have tried to do something good for her. I am proud to say that in all my years in show business I have never told a story my wife couldn't hear — and she's sitting right here tonight, just as she always does when I'm giving a performance."

They gave Robinson an ovation that night in the Cotton Club. I may not have his memory-quoted words down exactly, but they are words that convey the effect he made on his audience of an aging but true American, who had done well by his country, and whom his country had treated well, too.

At a stage-side table that night I photographed Robinson and Calloway — and looking them over 10 years later these pictures tell me there's nothing seriously wrong with America — nothing that more men like Bill Robinson, and fewer like Paul Robeson, won't cure.

Preliminary Hearing for Slayer Monday

First Degree murder and kidnapping charges were filed yesterday against Roland Edmond Gove, 20, Haverhill, Mass. youth, confessed murderer, kidnapper and robber who is being held without bail in Hempstead county jail. He will be given a preliminary hearing Monday in municipal court. Prosecuting Attorney James H. Pilkinton said.

Gove has confessed to fatally shooting Matthew Runnels, 45, Negro, robbing and critically wounding Tom Seymour of Fulton, and kidnapping Lee Helton of Fulton. Julia Chester attendants today said Seymour had a "good night" and seemed to be slightly improved. He is suffering from a bullet wound in the chest.

The youth slayer told officers the whole thing started when he tried to rob Seymour while on his way to his home. Gove was in a car when he saw Seymour and decided to have a lawyer represent him.

"I just fired when he swung. He should have seen that I meant business. The colored man was the same thing over again. I saw him jump toward me and I fired again and again. They should have known better. I was scared," he told Sheriff Claude Sutton.

Prosecutor Pilkinton said Gove's background was about what would be expected in a case of this type. He is one of three brothers whose father died when Gove was in the eighth grade in Haverhill, Mass. public school. His mother is reported to be in a welfare home in Groverland, Conn. A brother is stationed on Guam and a younger brother is said to be in a foster home.

He entered the army at the age of 17 and started getting into trouble from the first. Then he stole a car in Oregon while on furlough and served 10 months in Oregon State Prison then returned home to his mother. Lack of jobs, he told officers, caused him to photograph agent and come to Texarkana. He said he quit his job but decided to stay and got a job with a Texarkana photo shop and made house-to-house sales. He admitted stealing a 38 calibre gun from one house when he discovered it.

A Car May Not Be Object of Worship in U. S. But It Certainly Is Leading Fetish

By HAL BOYLE
New York Nov. 18 — (AP) — If there is such a thing as reincarnation, if we are born again—I want to be a motor car.

Other souls may prefer to come back and inhabit the body of a lion, a dog or a cat or a sacred cow, if my spirit ever wanders earthward again I want it to dwell in the chassis of a sleek and shiny automobile. And I'll put it in a car.

For if the motor car isn't exactly an object of worship in America it is certainly a leading fetish. A fetish is an object of unreasoning devotion which is supposed to help its owner gain from life whatever he wants. That is a perfect description of the place of the automobile in our civilization.

In slightly more than a generation it has gained a hold on the people. Such as no stone or wooden idol ever held on an African tribe. And its appeal is steadily increasing.

This year a record number of images of this four-wheeled demigod or our times will be turned out of the factories—above 5,500,000.

The automobile has cost more lives in the United States than two world wars and it has changed the face of our nation and the pattern of our lives.

But the near-worship accorded it only grows stronger. Folks tell me things for it they wouldn't think of doing for themselves.

Cities that won't tear down slums are building better housing willingly do so to make an arterial highway. Men who refuse to go into debt to own a home cheerfully borrow money to buy a traveling best of steel, chrome and rubber.

New Orleans Again Covered by Smog

New Orleans Nov. 18 — (UP) — Peat fire smoke and heavy fog combined today to inflict a thick smog on New Orleans for the fifth time in a week.

Earlier smogs snarled traffic and decreased visibility to the danger point here. At least one traffic death resulted.

An attempt to put out the peat fires in a swampy area north of here by today. The section yesterday was only partly successful. Authorities said it would probably take a good five-day rain to do the job completely.

Miss Coplon Must Stand Trial-Ruling

New York Nov. 18 — (AP) — Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled today that Judith Coplon must stand trial with Russian Engineer Valentine Gubitchev on spy conspiracy charges.

Judge Ryan denied a motion by the ex-government spy's lawyer Archibald Palmer to hold that the trial would put his client in double jeopardy — that is put her on trial twice for the same offense.

Miss Coplon already has been convicted in Washington on a similar charge involving the theft of official secrets for passing on to the Russians.

The judge directed that she and Gubitchev must go on trial together next Tuesday.

And the sober-faced Gubitchev who had refused to go to enter any defense changed his mind and decided to have a lawyer represent him.

Speaking in Russian through an interpreter Gubitchev said he hadn't thought there were "good reasons to start a trial" and had considered the case "merely a provocation."

"I think," he told Ryan "it might be better for me to prepare my defense and take counsel."

Ryan also declined to strike one count from the four-count indictment against the petite 28-year-old Miss Coplon and Gubitchev a 32-year-old engineer now suspended from his United Nations post.

In an all-week series of motions and arguments designed to block a second trial about all Miss Coplon has been able to get is an order that the government must turn a lipstick and other personal belongings taken from her when she was arrested.

Ryan said yesterday that papers taken from her purse by the FBI at that time may be used as evidence against her.

Truck, Train Collide But Nobody Hurt

At 1:50 a.m. today a large truck transport owned by Strickland & Co. and driven by B. L. Davis of Dallas, Texas, collided with a Missouri Pacific Train at Third and Louisiana streets. Nobody was hurt.

Truck and wheel of the truck were considerably damaged. City police investigated.

About 6 p.m. yesterday automobiles driven by Clarence Ogden and George H. Smith, Jr. collided with a Missouri Pacific Train at Third and Louisiana streets. Nobody was hurt.

Earlier in the day vehicles driven by Grace Lindsey and Jack Ficker ran together at Third and Main. Little damage resulted.

STROBLE CAPTURED IN LOS ANGELES — Fred Stroble, 67, center, is the sex slayer of 6-year-old Linda Joyce Glucot of Hollywood. He is held by two Los Angeles detectives a few minutes after he was identified in downtown Pershing Square and turned over to police. A towel deliveryman, Joe Miller, recognized Stroble from newspaper pictures and turned him over to a traffic officer, Arnold Carlson. After a brief questioning by the District Attorney's office, police say Stroble confessed the slaying. (NEA Telephoto)

'Don't Deserve to Live' Says 66-Year-Old Wine Drinking Slayer of Young Child

Los Angeles Nov. 18 — (AP) — Muttering "I don't deserve to live" pasty-faced Fred Stroble 66-year-old baker braced himself in a county jail cell today for a grand jury action in the sex slaying of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucot.

Stroble the grandfather of one of Linda's favorite playmates poured out his sordid story to District Attorney William Simpson as a 48-hour fugitive search through the West and into Mexico wound up yesterday on a stool in a downtown Los Angeles bar.

Simpson said Stroble formally charged with murder admitted that he strangled and bludgeoned the pudgy little girl to death when she resisted his improper advances. Arraignment is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. today in Municipal court.

"I had been drinking all day — wine. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk," Stroble was quoted as saying. He said the ash-gray-haired grandpa — who liked to buy kids ice cream and candy — told of enticing Linda into a bedroom of the home where he lived with his daughter her husband and their two children. The story:

"I was playing with her . . . (Simpson said this involved an act of molestation but not rape). . . when she started to scream. She was resisting me."

"This wasn't the first time. I had played with her once before. I strangled her first with my hands then with a tie. She was quiet. I wrapped her up in the blanket and carried her out to the incinerator. . . I stabbed her with the ice pick and then slammed her with the flat side of the axe six times to the head. . . Then I went back into the kitchen and got a (butter) knife. I remembered a trick I learned while watching the bull fights in Mexico. I stabbed her in the back just below the skull between the shoulder blades. That makes death come easy and fast."

"The little girl did not suffer too much. She was dead within eight or ten minutes."

"That was about 5 p.m. Monday," Stroble said. Linda's body was found the next morning and the search started.

Speaking in a low monotone as stenographers and a recording machine took his statement, Stroble said he boarded an interurban train for Ocean Park and stayed in cheap hotels at the beach city for three nights.

He said he had thought about suicide by jumping off the pier but decided yesterday morning to return to Los Angeles and "give myself up."

U. S. Foreign Policy Vital Thing Today

—Oren Harris

Speaking on the subject of "Our National Stake in Foreign Policy," Congressman Oren Harris told Hope Rotary club today that "in complete contrast to the early stages of our country our national interest in foreign relationship means everything to us today."

In comparing the problems at different stages in our history and the necessity of courageous and practical approach to international problems today, he emphasized that our aim in developing and promoting foreign policy is to bring about world peace and our own security.

The basis of his discussion was the effect of our own future well-being in carrying out the various commitments in foreign relations. Explaining the history and the background of the various programs to which we are committed and the decisions to undertake the calculated risks involved, he stated that these far-reaching steps and decisions affect our own country and domestic programs. They are all now so inter-related that we must consider them together.

"Peace being our primary stake, our government has the elementary task of promoting programs that will live national security."

The paradox existing because of contrasting views between our nation and Russia has made our efforts toward peace and recovery much more difficult.

This paradox, he explained, is that we approach the future on the principles of our faith in the worth of the individual, the preservation of our way of life and the stimulation of private effort is a most important factor in political economy and social purposes and Russia's approach being in direct contrast is toward the State over the individual and the promotion of their communist and totalitarian way. This paradox has resulted in the various programs on a positive and affirmative approach to prevent control, communist aggression and subjugation of all Western Europe and the Middle East.

In a warning as to the effect and impact on our own economy and political life, he said, we must recognize that we are now in a stage of transition from immediate short-term problems following the war to a new state of affairs.

"We are going through a period of political and economic evolution as far-reaching as any experienced in our history."

"This Congress has tried to meet these conditions and has had the task of trying to determine what is best, how far we can go and what we should refuse though the greatest demands of far-reaching consequence were made of it."

The question we are called upon to resolve is how we may provide and carry out a program of security without destroying our economic principles and freedoms we enjoy."

Out of all these complex relations this session of Congress has passed on questions affecting every phase of our economy and legislation benefiting more people, more lives and businesses than any other Congress in all of our history.

Mentioning such programs considered as agriculture, minimum wage, social security, better working standards, passed on by this Congress, he said equal consideration has been given certain decisions.

Veep and Young Widow Are Married

St. Louis Nov. 18 — (AP) — A romance which budded during a cruise down the Potomac river last summer will culminate in this city by the Mississippi today when a comely mid-western widow becomes the bride of the vice-president of the United States.

The ceremony uniting 71-year-old Alben W. Barkley and petite brunette Jane Rucker, 32, years his junior was set for noon (EST) in the chapel of St. John's Methodist church.

Although the wedding has been one of the most widely publicized of any in recent years, only members of the immediate families of the bride and groom were invited. They numbered thirty-four. About twice as many press and radio representatives were on hand.

Methodist Bishop Ivan Lee Holt was the officiating minister assisted by the Rev. Albee Godbold pastor of the church. The simple ceremony called for the single-ring service with the words "obey" omitted from the bride's vows. Both bride and bride-groom are Methodists.

The chapel was decorated with evergreen and the organ had been specially tuned in preparation for the big event. The church was a beautiful structure in the western part of the city.

David M. Barkley of Paducah, Ky., Barkley's son by a previous marriage was best man and the only attendant. Mrs. Hadley chose her brother William W. Rucker of West Palm Beach Fla. to give her away.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal luncheon was planned at the home of Mrs. T. M. Sayman friend of Mrs. Hadley on Lindell boulevard.

The newlyweds then planned to leave on their honeymoon for "Shanghai," La. As the Veep called it. Rumor has it that they are going to Key West Fla. where they will shortly be joined by President Truman and his family.

After the honeymoon the couple will visit Barkley's Paducah home "The Angles" and later go to Washington where a new and strange (to her) social whirl awaits the new second lady of the land.

In addition to the younger Barkley and Rucker other immediate members of the two families here for the ceremony included Barkley's two daughters Mrs. Max O. Truitt and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur II, both of Washington; Mrs. Hadley's two daughters Anne and Jane and her mother Mrs. Estle Rucker.

William Vaughan civilian aide to the vice president was a special guest. Mrs. Hadley's father, Roy Rucker is ill in Kansas City and was unable to attend.

Among presents received by Mrs. Hadley was a $10,000 diamond brooch from a friend of the vice president. It has 136 round and 36 rectangular stones. Another piece of diamond jewelry a gem-studded wrist which was given to his bride-to-be by Barkley. Among numerous wedding presents received by the couple was one from President and Mrs. Truman.

Insects Costly

Memphis Tenn. Nov. 18 — (AP) — The national cotton council estimates insects cost Arkansas cotton farmers $916,000 this year.

It fixed the national loss at 2,811,000 bales of about $470,000,000. The estimated $916,000 insect damage to the Arkansas cotton crop is exceeded only by the $106,210,000 damage in Mississippi.

Cold Hits Southern States

By The Associated Press

The southern states got a blast of freezing weather from the mid-west today.

Temperatures dipped to below the 32 degree mark over many spots in Dixie with the lowest readings in the rural areas. The cool air spread over Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. It touched some parts of northern Florida. The mercury hit 38 at Tallahassee.

Early morning lows included 24 at Fayetteville Ark.; 26 at Anniston Ala.; 29 at Alma Ga. and Tuscaloosa Ala. The mercury was at the freezing mark at Memphis, Vicksburg Miss. and Greensboro N. C. and at 34 at Atlanta and Charleston S. C.

Lows in the Middle West were in Eastern Nebraska, Western Iowa and parts of South Dakota with Atlantic Ia. reporting a low of 19. Some below freezing also was reported in New York state and parts of the New England area. Temperatures remained above normal over the Rockies and the Far West.

B-29 Taking Off to Hunt Another Crashes, 5 Dead

Tampa Fla. Nov. 18 — (AP) — A B-29 crasher, shot down, while starting to join the search for the missing B-29 off Bermuda. Five crewmen were killed four injured.

One of the motors developed trouble when the aircraft reached 100-foot altitude five minutes after taking off from MacDill air force base. Smoke poured from the engine then flames.

The pilot tried to make it back to the long runway and was within 500 feet of safety when the Superfort plunged into the mud and sludge of Tampa bay. The tide was out.

It struck 200 feet from shore. Four of the crewmen were thrown clear. Although dazed they walked away from the scene. They suffered minor injuries. Four were killed instantly and one died on the way to a hospital.

The ship was shattered into small bits as it struck the mud. Only a big tailpiece was recognizable. The big aircraft was scattered. Walker Air Force was stationed at MacDill in the air force's biggest search for a missing aircraft.

Name of the crewmen were not announced.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 18 — (AP) — An armada of planes aided by ships searched today in worsening weather the critical area off Bermuda where a U. S. Air Force B-29 crashed-landed Wednesday with 20 men aboard.

Faint radio signals and the sighting of two red flares reported last night spurred efforts to find the rescuers searching an area of about 100 miles square, 345 miles north-east of these islands.

Officials said four planes are now combing the pin-pointed spot where the wreckage originated. They said they hoped to locate the plane on the search all day but worsening weather, which is expected to remain poor until noon tomorrow, might reduce the number. The search area being extended to 400 miles north and 300 miles east of Bermuda. Another B-29 crashed in Tampa, Fla. while taking off in the Atlantic search. Five airmen were killed in the crash and four injured. This brought to six the number of B-29 crashes. The wreckage of the B-29 was found near here, Nov. 3.

The flares were sighted just at dusk, one by one of the 80 planes which through the day had patrolled the Bermuda area. The missing England-bound bomber ditched Wednesday it was going to ditch in the Atlantic when its downing and its fuel supply ran out. Another rescue plane, heard faint radio signals. The searchers thought they could have come from a portable radio set carried in the B-29 crash kit.

More search planes were ordered out from Kindley field here as soon as the flares were reported sighted. But night searches failed to disclose any trace of the missing aircraft.

As the 1800-ton Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent sped a 25 knots toward the area where the flares were reported seen her search was continuous reconnaissance patrol above the Rockies and the Far West.

Santa to Send Representative to Hope

Bill Reardon, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, made public today the fact that he has been in contact with Santa Claus, and because of the many good boys and girls in this community he had been able to work out a Christmas program that will allow all children to have direct contact with Santa Claus headquarters.

It was learned that Santa Claus is particularly busy preparing for the Christmas season and, therefore, will not be able to personally spend much time in our city but has arranged for Miss Mary Christmas, his official representative, to be in Hope regularly from the 1st to the 22nd of December.

A local committee, through a try-out situation among the junior and senior high school girls, presented to Santa Claus the name of Miss Mary Alice Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rogers and Santa has expressed his complete approval of the committee's suggestion.

Santa will personally come to Hope on the evening of December 22 to officially bestow on her the title of Miss Mary Christmas and introduce her to all the boys and girls as his official representative. Plans are in the making for Miss Mary Christmas to be downtown throughout the Christmas season to talk with all the boys and girls to appear on radio broadcasts and many public appearances.

Emergency Already Says Coal Operators

Washington Nov. 18 —(AP)— President Truman's statement that he will use the Taft-Hartley law in the coal dispute if there is an emergency brought an operator cry to say that there already is one.

Mr. Truman took his stand at his news conference late yesterday. He would not say whether he thinks an emergency would come with another walkout of the miners Nov. 30. That is the end of the present working period decreed by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, replied from Lexington, Ky. that "there already is a national emergency," Moody added in a speech that Mr. Truman obviously is up against a Nov. 30 deadline even though he denies the existence of a national emergency.

Mr. Truman's stand — keeping out of the dispute for the present — left the way open for a new peace meeting between Lewis and the operators before the present strike runs out. However no immediate conference was arranged and Moody said he saw no present hope for resuming contract negotiations.

Mr. Truman surprised most people watching the coal situation by flatly stating he would not step in until an emergency arose and was relying on the Taft-Hartley act in that event. The law provides for an 80-day court injunction to keep production going if necessary to the public welfare. He has used the law before, although it was passed only after the coal strike.

Most of the President's advisers had suggested the appointment of a fact-finding board that would look into the dispute and recommend a solution. Mr. Truman had done this in the dispute between CIO President Philip Murray and the steel industry.

Phone Workers to Strike, Not Negotiate

San Antonio Tex. Nov. 18 —(AP)— Southwestern Bell Telephone employees will strike rather than go through long wage negotiations between the company and their union. This was decided yesterday by delegates at the Communications Workers of America Southwestern division convention.

The workers' contract with the company expires Dec. 1. Negotiations are scheduled to be resumed Nov. 28.

The delegates passed a resolution by a vote of 500 to 1. It instructed the union's bargaining committee to "use every method at its disposal including a strike vote to bring about an immediate and satisfactory termination of the present 1949 negotiations."

The union has members in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri and in three Illinois counties adjacent to St. Louis.

Compromise Between British Socialists, Conservatives Is More Than Meets the Eye

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There's more than appears on the surface in the British Socialist government's sensational compromise with the Conservatives whereby nationalization of the great steel industry will be delayed until after the next general election.

This steel project was top item in the nationalization program and the government had been anxious to achieve it before facing the voters again. Their sudden backflip means as Conservative leader Winston Churchill points out that the election will be "most a referendum" on the proposition of nationalizing steel.

Naturally this development has inspired the thought among some observers that it represents one of those patriotic gestures which John Bull characterizes as "playing cricket" that is good sportsmanship and a democratic willingness to leave the decision to the people. It may indeed be all of that and we don't need to rob it of its glamour when we suggest that considerably more is involved.

I believe Prime Minister Attlee has made this gesture mainly because he no longer is sure that his party can control a majority of the voters.

"We had intended to take over the steel industry before entering another general election. However since this is the most important item in our program and it is a controversial one. We have decided to submit the matter to your judgment. You shall decide whether or you want to proceed with the program. Meanwhile a parliament will have approved the measure authorizing nationalization if you want it."

A little bird (an English sparrow) to be exact he whispered to me that Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison probably inspired this move. He is a powerful figure among the Socialist leaders and is credited with being a shrewd politician. What he is angling for appears to be the big middle-class vote of the nation and so are the Conservatives for this is the now unpredictable element in the forthcoming general election.

That middle-class vote represents the balance of power. And the middle-class will know exactly what it is voting for. If it votes "yes," it will ensure a continuation of the sweeping Socialist program. If it rebuffs the Conservatives it will mean in the language of Churchill himself:

"Should we be returned to power one of our first steps will be to expunge this wanton waste of time and partisan measure from the statute books. We shall allow the steel industry to continue its splendid career without being dragged into party politics by fantastic obsolete and discredited socialist doctrine."

This of course means that socialism will be on trial for its life in England.

Probably that's as should be. After almost five years of experiment with a new ideology the country is entitled to express an official opinion before nationalization has gone so far as to have utterly disrupted the old system of private initiative.

At present writing some British experts figure the election will be very close.

Probably that's as should be. After almost five years of experiment with a new ideology the country is entitled to express an official opinion before nationalization has gone so far as to have utterly disrupted the old system of private initiative.

Prosecutor Charges Hiss Lied Twice

New York Nov. 18 —(AP)— The government opened its prosecution in the second perjury trial of Alger Hiss today charging the former state department official "lied twice" when he denied giving secret papers to Whittaker Chambers.

In his opening address assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy told the jury of eight women and four men:

"We are going to prove (the lies) by the highest type of proof — by the immutable documents themselves."

"We are going to show you not one or two dozen but we are going to show you 47 typewritten documents. We are going to show you four handwritten documents."

"That proof," Murphy declared will be most overwhelming."

The second trial of the 43-year-old Hiss got under way yesterday. A jury was picked to try the case in less than two hours. His first trial ended last July 8 when a jury of two women and 10 men divided eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Speaking in a low calm voice the hunking prosecutor told the jurors that "to render a just verdict is a tremendously solemn obligation."

Hiss handsome and debonair sat with his wife Priscilla in the well of the brown-paneled courtroom as Murphy addressed the jury.

They were outwardly calm. Hiss listened attentively to the prosecutor's words. Both appeared unworried during the six grueling weeks of the first trial.

Hiss is accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he swore he never gave confidential government information to ex-communist agent Whittaker Chambers for transmittal to Russia.

Gove said he met Seymour on his way to St. Louis to look for another job. He said he and Seymour got into a poker game in a tourist court on Highway 67, and the next morning they drove to Fulton and Seymour showed him what he owned.

It was then he got ideas, took out the gun, ordered Seymour to hand over his money and when he resisted shot him through the chest. He admitted taking more than $100, most of which has been recovered. Lee Helton came onto the scene just before Gove shot Seymour who resisted him. Helton's warning to do as the gunman asked.

Then came the wild ride in which Helton was forced to drive on a side road near Sheppard and drug stores. Seymour from the car. Two men, later identified as Matthew Rannels and Elbert Smith, approached and were told by Gove that a man needed help.

When they sought to help Seymour, Helton fled. Later officers found Rannels shot to death but Smith had escaped. The young killer then made his way back to Hope and hired a taxi to Texarkana. Nine hours later he was arrested in Texarkana and returned to Hope where he was positively identified.

Convicted in Death of Novelist

Atlanta Nov. 18 —(UP)—Hugh D. Gravitt waiting to go to jail for the involuntary manslaughter in the death of Margaret Mitchell last night had another accident in the same car which struck down and fatally injured the famed novelist.

Gravitt his wife and one other person were slightly injured when his car collided with a truck on a highway on the outskirts of Atlanta.

Dekalb county police who investigated the accident said that it was not Gravitt's fault. No arrests were made and no charges were preferred.

Investigating officers said Gravitt was still carrying his driver's license although it should have been suspended following the accident which cost the life of Miss Mitchell on Aug. 11.

The 29-year-old ex-taxi driver was convicted only Wednesday of involuntary manslaughter in Miss Mitchell's death. The jury speci-

Wife Slayer Refuses to Walk to Gallows But Hanged Anyway

Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 18 —(AP)—A wife slayer who refused to walk to the gallows was carried out of his cell and hanged early today at the state penitentiary.

Prison officials tied Wayne L. Williams to a board and applied arm and leg straps before taking him to his execution.

Williams, 32, was convicted of beating his wife, Iallie Lucille, 27, with a rock and pushing her body over a steep cliff overlooking Puget Sound June 17, 1949.

He was sentenced to 12 to 18 months.

Gravitt was still free because Judge Ralph Hendrix delayed formal sentencing until next Wednesday to give him time to set his affairs in order.

Police said Gravitt's car crashed into a truck driven by Jesse Wilcox Moore when the truck turned onto the highway in front of Gravitt's car.

They said it appeared that the accident was unavoidable on Gravitt's part as his vision was blocked by a steep bank as he approached the truck.

Truckers Told Business Faces Danger

Little Rock, Nov. 18 —(AP)— Bus and truck operators of Arkansas were told today that fear of nationalization hangs over the transportation industry.

John V. Lawrence, Washington, managing director of the American Trucking association, said a move to take over the industry "isn't likely in the immediate future."

But the threat is there so long as this country continues practices similar to those which led to nationalization in England, Lawrence said.

He spoke at the opening session of the 17th annual convention of the Arkansas Bus and Truck association here today.

"We are riding closer and closer to the point where public opinion will accept nationalization, if not demand it," Lawrence declared.

Delegates this morning nominated Artie Gregory of Little Rock, as their next president to succeed R. A. Young, Jr., of Fort Smith. He was to be elected and installed at a banquet tonight.

Other officers selected: Walter Morris, Helena, executive vice president, and Carroll Owens, Little Rock, secretary-manager.

Tells GOP to Get Out and Get Votes

Topoka Kas. Nov. 18 —(AP)— GOP National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson advised Republicans today that they don't win elections by sitting around in their offices or clubs and bawling the administration of the Truman administration.

In a get-out-the-precinct-vote speech for a meeting sponsored by the party's Kansas State committee, Gabrielson declared:

"A political party state-wide or nation-wide is only as good as the sum of its precinct organizations. If you win in the precincts you cannot lose in the nation."

And he predicted that the Republicans will do less in next year's congressional elections although he warned against taking that for granted.

"All of us have vivid and unpleasant recollections of a recent campaign which we thought we couldn't possibly lose," Gabrielson noted in his prepared speech.

"Well we did lose it," he said. "He said the party must end internal squabbling and concentrate on fighting Truman 'socialism'."

The administration he added is running this nation further and further into debt here at home largely because of its insistence upon schemes to buy the peoples' votes with the peoples' own money." He added:

"The only way to put a stop to such nonsense is to elect a Republican congress next year."

To help do that he said national headquarters in Washington "set up the nucleus of a corps of trained workers who know how to organize a precinct and how to teach others to do so."

"Subject to such limitations as may be imposed by our financial resources that corps of organizers will be expanded and will be available for use by state or county chairmen."

night sex orgy.

A tenth man was found guilty of attempted rape.

A superior court jury took only one ballot in finding the verdict. The defendants ranging in age from 19 to 23 years took part in the sex orgy May 27 with Mrs. Marie Charlton 21.

The young woman died in August at Western State hospital where she had been recommitted because of her mental condition.

Court officials said the jury's verdict could bring terms up to 20 years or to life.

mands which the Congress failed to enact.

"The Congress refused to 'repeal the Taft-Hartley Act,' emphasizing that labor and business must understand they have a stake in this whole evolutionary stage in our economy." He said he did not believe the next session of Congress would repeal the Act and that, particularly, the national emergency provision should be utilized, more, in national emergencies vitally affecting all of our people.

He explained some revisions could be made and would have certain extreme elements put not be acted to prevent it.

"This Congress refused to socialize the medical profession and the next session will likewise refuse to adopt it," he said.

"This Congress refused a demand for so-called Civil Rights programs and the next one will bring a bitter fight and strife on these issues."

"All of these and especially taxes and appropriations are directly inter-related to the international program as affecting our economy."

"Seven billion dollars in foreign aid, $15 billion in national defense, is a terrific price to pay."

"We again will have a deficit which we cannot pursue under a sound program and emphasize we must decrease our expenditures and spending to meet this dilemma because Congress is tax conscious and will not vote to increase the taxes even though demanded by the administration."

Mentioning the suggestion of increasing our national income to $300 billion as a way of the economic catastrophe, he said he was fearful of the inflationary effect of the dollar value. No nation has ever had a sound economy with inflation.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

Washington Nov. 17. The University of Maryland has expelled a student for rioting in an outburst of morose nonsense vague, intended to hearten the football team. The rioter students made a bonfire on a highway and wrecked cars which were stalled by the fire. Some of the drivers were threatened with rough-house but none was attacked.

Joseph D. Tydings, the president of the student body, is a son of the late Senator Tydings. The name of the student body prominently apologized to all motorists who suffered inconvenience.

This decency was unseemly and out of date and Senator Tydings had better admonish his son that he will get nowhere in our politics disparaging mob violence.

As these essays have pointed out, riot, even to the extent of insurance against constituted government, is a democratic party tradition.

The C.I.O. from the time of Flint Mich. riots which found Governor Frank Murphy in a yellow C.I.O. and actually established the never even had a schoolyard fight because his mama held him tight.

The Common Man tried to hold the riot was divisible into all the proper misnomers which make it up. He said it was only multiple assault, multiple disorderly conduct and multiple mischief.

However that only showed what a bad job he was, confirming the judgment of the members of Columbia, because these crimes by the chemical action of the law.

Years later, when the United Auto Workers the name Klux that frightened the cowardly and phy organ, ized a picket line with blue shirts at the North American Aviation plant in Inglewood, Calif., the same Roosevelt called out a regiment of regulars to break it up.

This time the riot was violent insurance "in a relatively gentle outrage."

The difference was simple. In the first case, at Flint, this grim political auxiliary was organizing a body to seize out of the wages of unwilling workers as much money as he wanted for his campaigns.

In the second case, at Inglewood, the union was organizing a body to seize out of the wages of unwilling workers as much money as he wanted for his campaigns.

By the Rev. J. L. Doolittle, pastor of the Chicago and Cook County Building Trades council, the good man might have been seemed a slight reserve but he said: "Grant, oh grant, for he gifts, your powerful assistance, the representatives of this gathering in their efforts to quench the cause of those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow."

In the very presence of the arrogant, brutal and amazingly rich and powerful William E. Maloney, Maloney in Maloney's besought for quench the tempest of greed, selfishness and avarice.

Next, the mayor, Martin, really a great privilege to have here. He said this is a most even though he has under his microscope a fine police force with two teeming, untrained and untrained general corruption, graft and the Gilbert of the state's attorney, Dan Maloney and George T. Barnes, entitled supervising captain.

Maloney could have had a line of a phone call but more likely the mayor of Chicago formally acknowledged the "privilege" of his own gang in his own words.

Under the constitution, Maloney, as president, appoints the committee on credentials which passes on the qualifications of the delegates to the re-election of national officers to their fat jobs and money accounts for four years more.

The committee on credentials seems to it that no undesirable character is approved for seats in the convention.

Now, after elaborate pawing and snorting of long words, we come to a solemn hour when Maloney yields the gavel to brother Charles V.P. Gramling of Bolton, Ga., sixth vice president of the union, who is nominated by brother William I. Lynch, of Chicago.

Brother Lynch swings out into space for a flight of that voluminous special extravaganza which is the moments of historical importance and political dedication. This is brother Lynch butting his bread.

Brother Gramling, I wish I could like you and put it over but I am glad to have you know I don't do anything else but recognize the ability of certain people.

Brother Maloney, we have elected Maloney as a boss. I believe his is one of the greatest leaders the engineers have ever had.

One of them was shot dead in Washington, D. C., a few years ago when the Democratic election process got jammed somehow.

"I would like to talk here and take up a lot of time for the benefit of the brothers but, like I say, I had your gift of gab, Charlie, Maloney has done his job."

He is a powerhouse as a boss. He tells you that is that and that is that. But I would say that I am proud to place in nomination for president of the union, William E. Maloney, from local union Chicago.

Anton Imahama, of Chicago, second V.P., was the first to second the nomination of brother Maloney, whose mansion recently was raided of jewelry worth $15,000 and $500 worth of perfume. He thought it might be well to close the nominations now, for surely anybody would have the rudeness to oppose the man than whom. In move on follow down the list did told that this was a "democratic union" and that anyone desiring to nominate some dark-horse hoodlum must have his chance.

This went on until 27 infatuated followers had voiced their general, synonymous emotions, after

The Professional Golders association convention at Mid-Pines is to bar prexy George Schneider from all tournaments except the PGA championship and the Masters. When Bob Miller pulled out the "bonus" slip in the National football league draft for Detroit, they say his face was up like Christmas tree and he whispered one word: "Lard."

Immediately the wheels began to turn to assure Leon Hart an engineering student an adequate non-football job in Detroit.

When Forrest Evashevski turned down the Oregon State job last year Crisler recommended another Michigan State assistant, Kip Taylor, as one of the smartest coaches around. Cleaning The Cuff
That draft "sleeper" Branch Rickey was talking about turned out to be Maloney. Rickey reports he suddenly learned how to taxicab and became slightly terrific in the coast league. Ballots for the World-Telegram "coach of the year" award went out to football coaches and the Razorbaks' body in Oklahoma is keeping fingers crossed hoping Bud Wilkinson will get the votes.

By CARL BELL
Little Rock Nov. 18. — (AP) — Arkansas Razorbaks will try again tomorrow to score their first major football victory in the big stadium which was built for the express purpose of giving the masses a chance to see them in action.

While the Porks have broken even in six appearances War Memorial stadium here they have won the games by a forward passing "breathers" and have let the big ones get away.

William and Mary will furnish the opposition tomorrow. It will be the rubber game of a short series between the two. The Razorbaks won 21-19 in the Birmingham Dixie bowl Jan. 1 1948 but the Indians came out on top of a 9-0 count in a regular season meeting here last fall.

Arkansas is a slight favorite for the third straight time and one reason is that Leon (Muscles) Campbell will be back in the lineup.

The Razorbaks' ace fullback has run with the ball in a scrimmage at Fayetteville yesterday for the first time since he suffered a knee injury in the Texas game last week. Coach John Barnhill said it was a pleasant surprise at Campbell's performance. He did well and didn't even favor the knee.

Muscles will be at fullback the first time we get the ball Saturday. I don't know how long he will last though.

Barnhill also said Gene Mazzanti will be shifted from fullback to left halfback to give the No. 1 offensive backfield more power.

William and Mary which like Arkansas has a season record of 1-3 and four defeats has been primarily a forward passing team this year. But the Indians also are likely to show some semblance of their old-time single wing power too. Jack Cloud whose debut for the Virginians to turn to an overhead game will be back in action.

The unimpressive record of the two teams plus the Razorbaks' past inability to perform at their best in the 35,000-seat stadium is likely to keep Saturday's crowd below 20,000. The kickoff will be at 2 p. m.

Clyde Scott to Start for the Eagles

Philadelphia Nov. 18. — (AP) — Coach Greasy Neale of the Philadelphia Eagles will have to make numerous shifts in his lineup for Sunday's football game against the New York Bulldogs here because of injuries.

Bush Pritchard one of the National Football league's top ground gainers, and Johnny Green ace defensive end definitely will not see action.

On the doubtful list are Halfbacks Jim Farmer and Frank Zeigler Center Vic Lindsag and End Neil Armstrong. Ben Kish reserve fullback also has a broken nose.

Clyde Scott, rookie from Arkansas will replace Pritchard on the offensive lineup. Russ Craft and Pat McHugh usually strictly defensive players also will play on the offense.

Pete Pinos and Jack Ferrante figure to carry most of the load both offensively and defensively at the ends.

This is a famed duck-h area but it would be, sort of a sensation if any such inuring a single fowl. The test will be held in the downtown section of this rice mill southeast Arkansas considered distance from duck grounds.

Contestants are judged on musical quality of the sound, well as their similarity to actual quacks of a duck. Ark callers are used by a m but a few depend solely on imitation of their vocal cord. Each competitor is given three calls. The first is a lone trance, greeting like yelling there to a group of people distance to attract their attention. The second is the feeding. Ducks chatter a lot when and you have to be very sounds they make when t for food.

The third is the mating of some duck call. This year is Ted Williams of the Sox. About 100 men and women expected to compete. The ing national champion (Jake) Garner of Stuttgart.

1950 Ford Viewed by Public Today

The 1950 Ford line of passenger cars, with scores of improvements, was made public today by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

"The progress that has been made in performance, economy, safety, comfort and appearance will again mark the 1950 Ford as the car of the year," according to L. D. Cruse, vice-president and general manager, Ford Division.

The new Fords are on display in the showrooms of 6400 Ford dealers throughout the nation and in Hope at the Hope Auto Co. All improvements in the 1950 Fords have been geared to offer even greater quality than was offered in the high quality 1949 Ford cars.

The new features embody improvements throughout the entire car — in the engine, the body, the seats, doors, frame, trunk, fenders, instrument panel, brakes, floors and elsewhere.

The 1950 Fords will be offered in two lines — the Custom Deluxe and the lower-priced Deluxe series. A full range of body styles will be available, including station wagons and convertibles. Ford will continue to offer the choice of two engines — the 100-horsepower V-8 and the 85-horsepower Six.

STYLING of the 1950 car, although not radically changed because of public acceptance of the modern design of the Fords, nevertheless includes several distinctive features to enrich the appearance.

A colorful new crest, derived from an authentic coat of arms dating back to 17th Century England, appears on the front of the hood and center of the trunk lid. This is the first crest that has ever appeared on Ford cars.

Other styling features include a new hood ornament, styled parking lights in new positions and a new ornamental deck lid handle. ENGINE improvements include the latest developments in engine design to give 1950 Ford cars the quietest and smoothest running V-8s and 6-cylinder engines ever produced by the company.

Some of the engine features are a timing gear, auto-thermic type pistons, new drive camshaft lobes, new fan and reduction gear fan speed on the V-8's and many other improvements adding to the life and quietness of the engine.

SAFETY factors include the strengthening of Ford's famed "lifeguard" body, new bumper guards, a ribbed rear bumper and bumper supports for added strength, easier operating handbrake, wider sun visors and improved steering linkage for easier control.

Colors are offered in a brilliant new array of 11 choices. There are new colors of broadcloth and mohair interior finishings. DOORs will be equipped with new rotary locks as the costliest cars, be exterior handle will have a touch-button latch and there will be arm rest door closers.

Luggage Compartments which are the roomiest in the Ford-priced field offer a new deck-lid latch and an automatic support arm for easy operation together with attractive compartment lining.

MAGIC AIR HEATERS will have a higher speed motor, forcing the air flow 25 per cent and the heater control positions will be clustered and clearly marked and eliminated for easy reading and simple adjustment.

OTHER FEATURES include an attractive new three-quarter horn ring; new gas filler tube and cover; new rigid regulators for windows; new double-walled glove compartment door; new automatic courtesy lights which go on when front doors are opened, new durable floor coverings and increased openings for defrosters.

OVERDRIVE which improves gasoline economy up to 15 per cent, will continue to be sold as factory-installed optional equipment on all models.

Sergeant Is Indicted for Treason

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Attorney General McGrath today announced the indictment of John David Provoost former U. S. army staff sergeant, on charges of treason.

The attorney general said the indictment was returned by a federal grand jury in New York City. Provoost has been under arrest there since Sept. 2 when he was discharged from the army.

The indictment is based on alleged treasonous activities in the Philippines and Japan while Provoost was a prisoner of war in the hands of the Japanese.

McGrath's announcement disclosed that about 15 witnesses were brought to this country from Japan, after Provoost's arrest to testify about his activities before the grand jury.

The justice department said that Provoost now 33, formerly was a federal reserve bank employee in San Francisco.

The department's statement said that when Corregidor in the Philippines fell to the Japanese in May 1942, Provoost stepped forward and offered his services to the enemy. Thereafter the department asserted, he shaved his head and dressed as a Japanese Buddhist priest.

He was charged in the indictment with 12 specific acts of treason. Among these is an accusation that he caused the execution of the enemy during World War II. Capt. Burton C. Thomson of the U. S. army on Corregidor by reporting Thomson to the Japanese.

About half of those indicted were accused of making enemy propaganda broadcasts.

Senators See Reduction in Excise Tax

Washington Nov. 17 (AP)—Two senators said today they expect congress to knock out at least part of the wartime excise taxes early next year.

Both lawmakers, Senators Wiley (R-Wis) and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), called them "nuisance taxes." The excises are federal levies upon cosmetics, furs, jewelry, luggage, theater tickets and travel fare.

"I'm sure the senate will pass my bill eliminating part of these nuisance taxes if it ever gets a chance to vote," Johnson told a reporter. "And I'm pretty certain that congressional leaders will see that both the senate and house get that chance."

Wiley said in a statement he was insistent that congress pass either the Johnson bill or one of his own.

"Congress gave its solemn word that these taxes would last only so long as the national emergency existed," Wiley said. "Hostilities have now been over five years and these taxes should be continued."

Johnson's bill would cut about in half the existing federal taxes upon admissions, furs, jewelry, luggage, toilet preparations and photographic equipment. It would reduce the existing 15 per cent tax on rail bus, air and ship transportation of passengers from 10 per cent, with similar reductions for local telephone calls.

Single Bomb Could Smash Washington

Washington Nov. 17 (AP)—A single, well-placed atom bomb could smash the heart of the nation's capital, the experts believe.

Every building within a half mile radius of a bomb burst would be damaged and made unusable. Fires would sweep an area of many square miles.

This picture of what might happen is drawn in a report prepared by the staff of the atomic energy commission. It is the first government study of the probable effects of an atom bomb explosion over an American city.

A possible answer, the report says, would be the creation of an adequate radar warning system and bomb-proof shelters. That would help keep down casualties.

To minimize destruction the report suggests dispersing government buildings within the city and its outskirts. It advises spreading departments at least two miles apart.

These estimates are based on the assumption that the old-type bomb, similar to those dropped on Japan during the war, would be used. Newer, more powerful bombs now available presumably would cause far more damage.

The report, first described in a copyright article by the Washington Post and later confirmed by the AEC, was given to the national security council on Nov. 4. The council is the nation's top defense agency composed of heads of departments and reporting to the President.

The council circulated copies of the report to the departments and important agencies.
